

Contra Costa County Community Warning System

The Community Warning System (CWS) of the Contra Costa County Office of the Sheriff offers a cell phone alerting program. This program allows cell phone users to be notified of hazardous material incidents and other emergencies that pose an imminent threat to human life or health. Users can tailor the alerts they receive to specific areas in the county. You can register your cell phone by simply going to their Web site at <http://cws.cccounty.us/register.html> and submitting your cell phone number and county locations you are interested in being alerted to.
